Wine at £100,000 a bottle is a drink that in expense would rival the luxurious taste of barbaric splendor, when priceless pearls were thrown into the wine cup to give a rich flavor to its contents; yet in the city of Bremen just such a costly beverage may be found. In the wonderful wine cellar under the Hotel de Ville, in the Rose apartment, there are twelve cases of holy wine, each case inseribed with the name of one of the Apostles.

Inferson City Tribune.

There are many queer incidents that come under the observation of a prison official in his daily routine of duty. They are generally tinged and shadowed by the pathos and heartache of human woe and sorrow, but occasionally there is one brightened by a gleam of the humorous in the somber surroundings. Such a one occurred recently. There is a convict in the barber shop of the prison, the window of which commands a view of the yard where the prisoners pass to and fro from the cell buildings to the shops. The barber a few afternoons since was watching the wilnes? from the window, and suddenly its attention became riveted upon an old man in the ranks. He gazed a moment at this particular individual and a smile broke over his face, and he exclaimed: "Gol darned, if there ain't dad." Investigation substantiated the recognition. The burber was sent from Callaway county and had not heard from his father for a number of years.

on the question of pooling milk Pro-fessor Robertson, of Canada, appears to be level-headed. He recently declared in the Ontario Dairyman's Convention; "I'm not fool enough to pool my 4 per cent fat milk with my neighbor's 3 per cent stuff." There are a good many others in the same boat, and it is decided-by against the pooling system, whether ly against the pooling system, whether of milk or cream.

Professor Lintner, of Albany, says the Professor Lintner, of Albany, says the bean weevil may be destroyed by dropping the bean for a quarter of a minute in hot water or by placing them in a tight harrel and setting a succer of biguiphide of carbon on them, then carpfully closing the barrel. The gas from the bi-sulphide, being heavy, will descend, permeate the whole mass of beans and destroy insect life.

The largest single crops grown on one acre in 1859 were: Corn, 255 bushels of shelled corn, green weight, which shrunk to 239 bushels when kiln-dried; potatoes, 738 bushels; oats, 135 bushels; wheat, 80 bushels. These crops are the largest ever secured from one acre under SMOKE LANGE'S CUBES CIGARETTES for Ca-

Soluble phosphoric acid is the amount of phosphoric acid in the fertilizer that will be dissolved out by water. It is the amount of the total phosphoric acid as given above, each molecule of which was combined with one molecules of lime and two molecules of water. It is the most valuable one of the whole list and should always receive special attention, as nearly one-half the value of the lertilizer depends on this element.—

A writer in the American Florist gives his testimony as to the superiority of evaporating tobacco water to burning the tocacco for fumigating purposes in green-houses. He always keeps a barrel full of tobacco stems soaking in water, and has a tin pan 2x3 feet, and four inches deep. He fills the pan about half full of tobacco water and then puts in it three or four red hot firs-bricks. It kills the green fly very quickly, and never injures even the most tender plants.

Finding that the child kept on asking troublesome questions despite the mild reproof of her parents, he concluded to make a clean breast of the matter, and have it over at once. So he said with calmness: have it over at once. So he said with calmness:

Answering the question: "Shall we plant the Russian apricot?" asked at the meeting of the Ohio State Horticultural Society, G. T. Trowbridge said that the apricots we now have would thrive where the peach would grow. The tree was as hardy or hardier than the peach, but the trouble was in early blooming; blossoming two weeks earlier than the peach, the crops were nearly always destroyed by the late frosts. If it should be shown that the Russian varieties blossomed as late or later than peaches, then we could plant them with the hope f growing an occasional crop of apricols

A Woman Two Hundred Years Old. A Weman Two Hundred Years Old.

A case is on record of a woman who lived to this advanced age, but it is scarcely necessary to state that it was in "the olden time." Now-adays too many women do not live half their allotted years. The mortality due to functional derangements in the weaker sex is simply frightful, to say nothing of the indescribable suffering which makes life scarcely worth the living to so many women. But for these sufferers there is a certain relief. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Presscription will positively cure leucornea, spainful menstrantion, prolapsus, pain in the ovaries, weak back; in short, all those complaints to which so many women are martyrs.
